SENATORS WILL OPPOSE BOOST FOR GRAYSON

Object to President's Attempt to Jump His Personal Friend and Physician to Rank of Rear Admiral.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Decided opposition developed in the Senate yesterday to the confirmation of Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., as a medical director, with the rank of rear admiral. Dr. Grayson, who is President Wilson's physician and aide, was nominated by the President, over 137 officers in intervening grades of the naval medical service. Dr. Grayson is a passed assistant surgeon, with the rank of lieutenant, but was about to be promoted to surgeon with the rank of lieutenant-commander in regular course.

The Republicans of the Senate discussed the question informally among themselves, and a general agreement was reached to oppose the confirmation. It is practically certain, however, that the opposition will by no means be confined to the Republicans. There is a feeling among many men on both sides that Dr. Grayson should not have been promoted over the heads of so many men of greater experience and his seniors in age and time of service, in spite of their personal liking for the man himself, and their belief in his ability as a surgeon.

One Democratic senator said that he had been told by a Democratic colleague that he regarded the nomination as "outrageous," and that this man at least did not intend to vote for it. Several of the Republican members were much disturbed because they said that an attempt was made by some of the Democrats to rush the confirmation through as soon as the appointment was announced, without giving the Senate time to realize what it meant.

The dissatisfaction with the President's appointment of Dr. Grayson was further emphasized by many informal protests from officers in all branches of the navy which reached various senators. Most of these protests, emphasized the belief of their sponsors that Dr. Grayson was entirely capable of filling the higher office with complete satisfaction, and that the objection was in no sense personal.

The chief cause of complaint was that Dr. Grayson, who is 38, left those beneath him practically Grayson's appointment, at the age of would be in the service much longer than most of those inferior to him in rank in his new position, while the feeling that it is a personal and not essentially an official promotion rankles.

Surg. Gen. Hjalsted, who was also nominated yesterday to be a medical director with the permanent rank of rear admiral, will be the ranking medical officer of the navy for 11 years, when he will reach the retirement age. Dr. Grayson will be the second ranking medical officer of that period and will then become the ranking member of his corps, with 15 years additional to serve before retirement age. Nearly every officer that Dr. Grayson will jump, if his confirmation is confirmed by the Senate, is older than he. Under his new commission he would be senior to every officer of the medical corps except Dr. Hjalsted for 26 years.

It was made known yesterday that the Senate, in executive session yesterday, shortly received the nomination of Dr. Grayson and the heads of the construction, medical, pay and civil engineering corps to the rank of rear admiral in these corps, confirmed the nomination of Chief Constructor David W. Taylor in the higher permanent rank, but sent the other nominations to the committee on naval affairs. The prompt confirmation of Chief Constructor Taylor was due to the fact that he was the head of his corps and would not displace any other officer by being promoted to the new permanent corps rank of rear admiral.

It was apparent that some senators desired to scrutinize the proposed promotions of the other officers nominated for permanent top places, all of whom will jump a considerable number of officers who are at present senior to themselves.

While there is nothing yet to indicate whether there is a possibility of the rejection of the nomination, it is certain that the opposition has become pronounced enough to delay it materially. It is quite possible that a filibuster may be started against it which would last until the end of the present Congress, March 4, although no definite plans of the kind have yet been formulated.

Dr. Grayson has been the prime aide to the President since Mr. Taft's administration. Since President Wilson has been in the White House, he had become a close friend and companion of the President while acting as his medical adviser, and it is due to his care that the President's present excellent condition is attributed. His promotion would probably not affect his continuing in his present capacity at the White House.

STATEMENT FROM PRINCIPAL.

Editor Portsmouth Herald:

A communication published in a local paper to which my attention has been called, seems to indicate that there is some misapprehension as to the scholastic standing of Trap Academy. Perhaps a statement from me on that subject will clear up this matter.

Trap Academy is rated by the State Department of Education as a Grade A Secondary School, the highest possible rating. It is inspected annually by the department and has never failed to meet the approval of the inspector. Any graduate who has taken the requisite courses may enter the State University at Orono upon certificate if his standing justifies it. Graduates of the school have regularly been admitted to other colleges not members of the New England College Entrance Certificate Association upon certificate. No application has ever been made to have the school placed upon the approved list of this Association because there has never yet been a time when there were enough properly qualified candidates for admission to colleges in the Association. By a recent decision of this Association it is now possible to obtain a provisional approval whenever there is a candidate for admission to any of their colleges and this will be done whenever the occasion arises.

Very truly yours,
O. H. D. LAMOURDEUX

Alman Witham Arrested With 15-Year Old Girl Held Without Bail.

Haverhill, Jan. 20.—Alman Witham, aged 31 years who was arrested last Tuesday upon his return to this city from Epping, N. H., with Mary Stramoth, a 15-year-old school girl, was held on a charge of drunkenness pending possible action by the federal and New Hampshire authorities. Last night was charged with a statutory offense and is held without bail.

In the warrant which Inspector Lattase obtained today at the local court Witham is charged with remaining with the girl in a local hotel the night previous to his going with her to Epping. He has a wife and baby residing on Billing street, this city.

Witham was arrested as a result of his actions on the train and he told the police that the girl was his "wife." Later he asserted that there was some household work to be done in an Epping residence and he took the girl there to do the work. The only charge placed against him by the local police last Tuesday was that of being intoxicated but they expected that the federal officers would take action under the provisions of the Mann act.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills: give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels, passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

LONDON HEARS GERMANS TRAPPED IN ROUMANIA

London, Jan. 19.—"Disaster has overtaken the enemy," said a press dispatch from Petrograd via Rome today. "The bridges over the Danube have been swept away by currents and the Russo-Roumanian armies are advancing on a wide front."

The German troops involved in the trap caused by the washing away of the Danube bridges are evidently those over the northern and western bank of the river. The capital city of Bucharest, held by the Germans, is on the northern bank. Braila, on the northwestern bank, was evacuated yesterday by the Germans.

Russians Took 428,000 German Prisoners in 1916.

Petrograd, via London, British Admiralty per Wireless Press, Jan. 19.—"The capture of two German field posts in the Baranovitch region on the Russian front and the failure of an attack by the Germans near Zborow, east of Lemberg in Galicia, are reported in today's war office statement," which says:

"Western front: Last night, in the region northwest of Baranovitch, detachments of one of our regiments surprised two enemy field posts. Both the posts were captured. Seventeen Germans were made prisoner and the remainder bayoneted."

"The enemy bombarded with heavy artillery the narrow valley in the neighborhood of the village of Bubnov."

"In the region of Zborow (Galicia) the enemy, after having destroyed our barbed wire entanglements in places by his artillery, assumed the offensive against our detachments situated on the heights southwest of Zborow."

The town of Oena, on the railroad line which virtually parallels a considerable section of the front along the Moldavian southwest frontier, has been under bombardment by the Teutonic heavy artillery, the war office announced today. The statement reads:

"Rumania front: In the valleys of the rivers Trotus and Oltus the enemy's heavy artillery bombarded the town of Oena and the village of Bordanesti. On the rest of the front there were scouting reconnaissances and infantry firing."

The statement reports that no events of importance have occurred on the Caucasus front.

Greece Complying with Terms of Ultimatum.

London, Jan. 19.—Ministers at Athens of the entente powers are thoroughly satisfied with the present attitude of the Greek government in carrying out the entente demands according to telegrams received today by the British government from Athens. The release of Venizelos adherents who had been imprisoned already has begun and a considerable number of them have reached their homes. Moreover, the dispatches say, the movement of Greek troops from Thessaly in pursuance of the demands of the entente allies, is proceeding rapidly.

It is stated here that if the attitude of the Greek government remains as satisfactory as it is at present, a speedy return of normal relations between Greece and the entente powers is certain.

Berlin Claims Russians Lost Heavily in Attacks.

Berlin, Jan. 19, by wireless to Sayville.—The Russians made attacks yesterday on German positions along the northern Roumanian front, north of the Suchitza valley. According to today's official announcement these attacks failed with heavy losses.

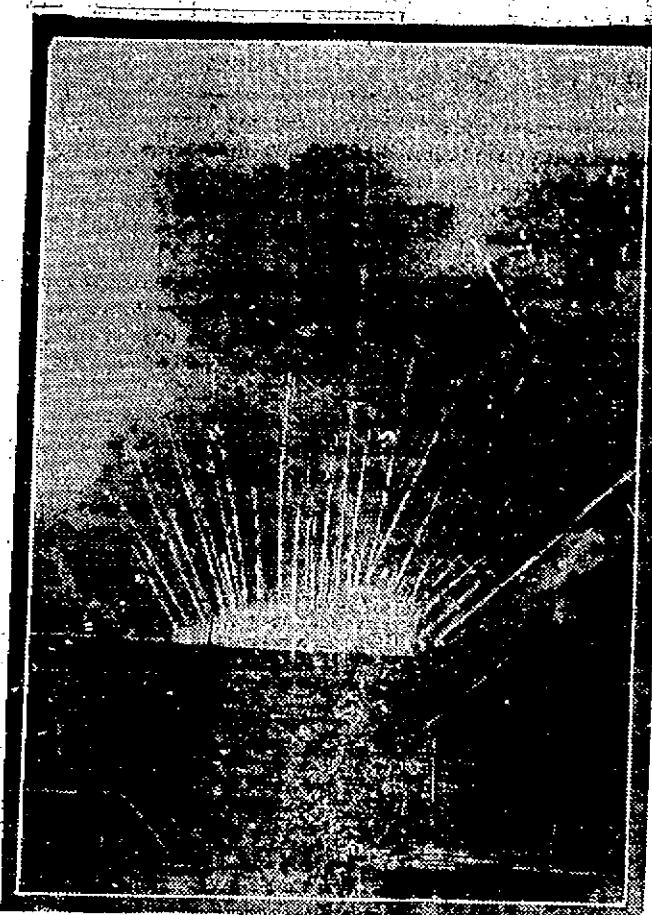

The announcement follows:

"Front of Archduke Joseph: North of the Suchitza valley, in the district of Marast, attacks undertaken against our height positions failed with heavy losses for the enemy."

"Front of Field Marshal von Mackenhausen: The situation is unchanged. Regarding the Macedonian front the statement says:

"An advance of British company against Seres was repulsed easily."

Bethlehem's Bid on Shells for the United States Navy

To the American People:

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded contracts amounting to over $3,000,000 to a British bidder for 14 and 16-inch projectiles for the Navy, for the reason that the British firm offered prices very much below those of American manufacturers, including ourselves.

We know nothing of the basis upon which the British bids were made, but the public is entitled to know the facts upon which we ourselves bid for this work.

Two years ago we took contracts to make 4,200 14-inch shells at price of $1,515,000 (with heavy penalties for delayed delivery). Despite the fact that all our experience and facilities have been strained to fulfill these contracts, up to now not a single shell has been accepted by the Government, although, on the work already done.

We have expended in wages, materials, etc. $117,881
Expended in making tests for the Government 75,000

Making our total actual expenditure up to date $192,881

And we have not received a SINGLE DOLLAR on these contracts.

In addition literal enforcement of the contract might involve payment of penalties for delayed delivery already amounting to $678,016.

Navy Department tests are now so severe that neither we nor, so far as we know, any other manufacturers have yet been able to produce in quantity 14-inch shells which will meet them.

In the light of our experience, and having no other basis, we bid for 16-inch shells approximately the same rate per pound as that upon which the Navy Department actually awarded a 14-inch shell contract one year ago.

FIVE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

CAR SKIDDED, CRASHED INTO TREE, AND THREW OCCUPANTS THROUGH TOP OF CAR TO THE ROAD.

Which returning from Dover with a party of four friends on Friday evening the automobile owned and driven by Louis Abrams, clothing merchant established on Daniel street, skidded on some ice on Maplewood avenue, crashed into a tree on the side of the road, and threw the five occupants out through the top of the car to the road. Mr. Abrams sustained a severe cut on his head and Joseph Kelley, son of Patrolman Kelly of the Police Department, was also severely cut, and was attended by Dr. Berry who was rushed to the scene of the accident by J. Louis Holmes, night foreman of the Portsmouth Motor Mart.

The car was badly wrecked although not so badly damaged as to be beyond repair. The radiator was driven back, one running board and fender were put out of commission, and the top, which was up at the time, was smashed to pieces. Mr. Abrams and Mr. Kelley were taken to their homes after treatment by the physician. The other three young men escaped with slight bruises and cuts.

Farmers In the Saddle.

An interesting feature of the last election was the sweep made by the farmers of North Dakota, where there is a Farmers' Non-Partisan League which is apparently in good working order. This League, which claims to have 50,000 members, got behind the Republican candidate for governor, who was elected hands down. The farmers also have a majority of the legislature and a majority of the supreme court. They are in a position to have something to say regarding affairs in North Dakota this year and, according to reports, they are preparing to make themselves heard in no uncertain terms.

It is to be hoped, for their own sake and the sake of the state, that they will not be unreasonable in the demands which they feel that they are in a position to make. Yet already there are forebodings of a program for government of the farmers, by the farmers and for the farmers, which if carried out may result in the discomfiture of others for a time and disappointment of the farmers in the end. Report has it that the farmers are to demand state controlled elevators and flour mills at terminal points, a state-owned packing plant and other things for the special benefit of the agricultural population. Some of them also want changes in the tax laws whereby some of the taxes they are now paying may be laid upon other shoulders.

It is difficult at this distance to judge fully of the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the demands of these North Dakota farmers, but it is easy to understand that if they go too far there will be a reaction through which the legitimate gains they have made will be liable to be lost.

Class legislation is not the thing for North Dakota or any other state. That there has been too much of this all will admit. Corporations and labor are responsible for some laws that never should have been enacted, and it must be acknowledged that it is no worse for the farmers to make a grab when they have the chance than it is for any other class. What is needed is a swing away from class legislation of any sort and a realization of the fact that in law making the interest of one should be the interest of all. No state and no nation can be truly prosperous where one class profits at the expense of another.

The country will watch North Dakota this year with interest, and it is to be hoped the farmers, who have gained so strong a hold on the legislative machinery, will keep their heads and not foolishly throw away the advantage that has come to them through united action.

A Father and Son banquet was held recently in a New England town and the fathers and sons present are reported to have had a jolly good time. This sort of thing, which was originated a few years ago, is better than nothing, but the home is a mighty good place for fathers and sons to get together and compare notes, and if this were done to a greater extent there would be little need for organized effort to bring together the elder and younger members of the family.

The fact that the insurance business is growing rapidly is creditable alike to the companies and the public. Insurance of all kinds is one of the substantial blessings of the age, as the people have come to realize, and it is this that accounts for the steady growth of the business, which puts reasonable protection within reach of all.

Let the farm women cheer up. The government is to expend $750,000 this year in carrying to them knowledge and information from the state agricultural colleges. And it is a safe bet that if the government would get right down to hardpan it could gather a lot of knowledge and in information from the women on the farms.

Some cigar manufacturers are raising the price of their goods because of the increased cost of material and labor. But sensible men will have no trouble in meeting this condition. They will put a limit to their smoke bills and, to a certain extent, the less they get for their money the better off they will be.

While many people are shivering in houses only half heated owing to the exorbitant price of coal it is indeed cold comfort to be informed that, owing to the cost of harvesting, the price of ice will probably be considerably higher next summer.

Germany claims that its food prospects for the next two years are as good as they were two years ago and that enlistments are coming so fast that there will be no need of conscription at present, if at all. The war is not yet over.

To the roll of immortals has been added one more name, that of Admiral George Dewey, as brave a sea fighter as ever strode the deck of a warship.

Editorial Comment

Respectfully Referred
(From the Laconia Democrat)
The following comments by Rev. Billy Sunday in the course of a reprinting to women for dressing immodestly on the street, are respectfully referred to the Women's clubs and the Suffragists:

"Why don't you women start a dress reform—of the women, by the women, and for the women. I'm not a crank, I don't want you to dress like my mother did, with hoops sticking out. But I want you to cover yourselves up when you go out on the streets. Why, a man with red blood in his veins can't look at half the women on the streets now and not have impure thoughts."

"Little girl, you look so small. Don't you wear no clothes at all? Don't you wear no chemise shirt? Don't you wear no pretty skirt? Don't you wear no underclothes? But your corsets and your hose?"

Navy Yards and Preparedness
(From the New York World.)
Three years ago the abolition of certain navy yards least favorably located would have been justified. It was a policy that more than one Secretary of the Navy vainly urged upon Congress, and their failure was explained by the hostility of political influences that counted on the benefits to be derived from appropriations of a more or less local character.

The whole situation has changed since the adoption of the new navy programme. It is that consideration obviously which governed the special commission of naval officers appointed by President Wilson in recommending that all of the existing navy yards be retained. The three-year building programme, which includes ten battleships, six battle-cruisers, ten scout-cruisers, fifty destroyers, sixty-seven submarines and nearly a score of other vessels, makes it imperative that nothing shall be done at this time to cripple the Government's plans. As the commission points out, the equipment of many of the yards even now, in important respects, is not equal to the requirements of the fleet, and it will be seriously inadequate in the near future when the fleet is brought up to its newly authorized strength.

Only a few of the yards are fitted for receiving and repairing the largest battle-ships. Dry-docking facilities are very far short of the navy's needs. It would be absurd for Congress to starve the navy yards while adding rapidly to the number of warships. The inevitable result of that course would be to reduce the size of the fleet ready at all times for service by overtaxing the capacity of the navy yards. And if private shipbuilders are to continue to make so many difficulties for the Government in agreeing upon the terms of contracts as to costs and time of delivery, the principal navy yards must be enlarged so that the Government can undertake more of the work of new construction, as Secretary Daniels proposes.

Where it Started
(From the Albany Journal)
Whenever Germany accuses Great Britain of having started the war it conveniently ignores the fact that its early war plans were laid on the supposition that Great Britain would hold itself aloof from the war.

Still Naggins Boston
(From the Worcester Telegram)
Boston calls on the legislature for $1,000,000 to establish a hospital for the insane in the metropolitan district. It is not the first call and it will not be the last even if it is answered with the hand-out of dollars by the million. Such a plant would not satisfy Boston a year. Boston has wasted $3,000,000 of state money and has no dry-dock to show for that vast pile of cash.

Too Far-Reaching Prohibition
(From the Cincinnati Times-Star)
The effect of the Webb-Kenyon law is problematic. States may not go "dry" so readily if the voter appreciates that prohibition means the abolition not only of the saloon, but of the deceiver in the sideboard as well. Also, one of the arguments for national prohibition has been removed. It was contended that because of the protection that the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution gave to the liquor traffic, it was impossible for a state actually to go "dry" unless there were national prohibition and "stoppage at source," to use all income tax phrase. Perhaps now that a "dry" state is permitted to wall itself against an invasion of liquor, it will permit the world without its walls to live as that world sees fit.

"Bone Dry" States Now
(From the Kansas City Times)
Under the decision of the United States Supreme Court on the Webb-Kenyon law, there is no excuse for any prohibition state to be anything but "bone dry." Kansas is already making preparation to take advantage of the decision by appropriate legislation.

Work for the Pilgrim Grandsons
(From the Chicago News)
Critics of our national manners and customs are fond of pointing the finger of derision at that portion of our Atlantic seaboard settled and dedicated to strict morality by the Pilgrim fathers and of saying that the descendants of those pious souls have departed

CURRENT OPINION

Woman's claim to the ballot is absolutely just. When you marry her you give yourself to her, don't you? You intrust her with the care of your children, don't you? You make her your partner in the most serious business in the world, the business of life, don't you? Why, then, are you afraid to trust her with the ballot?

Most men who become voters never go further than the eighth grade in school, and it is there that they learn practically all they ever know about government. Their teachers are women. Why not trust those who teach us with the right of suffrage? Aren't women moral enough? The penitentiaries are filled with men and the churches with women.

Do you believe it is unjust for a mother to ask for the right to have a voice in formulating the laws that make the environments by which her children are to be surrounded?—By William Jennings Bryan, Statesman.

from the paths of rectitude. This is a baseless charge.

The pilgrim is always adventurous and is habitually on a pilgrimage, seeking new worlds to inoculate with morality and steady habits. Therefore, having made of the New England states as he fondly imagined, so many brands plucked from the burning, this stalwart soul headed west, treading circumspectly along the parallels of latitude, as is the custom of the serious minded seeker for a new home.

The pilgrim, with his sons and grandsons, came west. They settled, a shining streak of law and order, across the continent. Then they expanded, a little south and a little north. This is Uncle Sam's abdominal band of goodness and it is continually broadening, west of the Alleghenies. The belt is not only morally, but the buckle, inflexibly fixed, has slipped distressingly.

Far be it from us to enumerate the delinquencies of our erring brother of New England—space being limited—but in the name of the sacred codfish and the conserved bean-look-alike, let us hug the Demon Rum! That alone is enough to make us stay our march onward and upward and consider going back to the cradle of our statutory limitations. The mid-continent is safe for the time being and the Orient can wait while we attend to this fire in the rear.

Linking the United States to Brazil
(From the Providence Journal)
A recent decision of the Supreme Court of Brazil has granted to an American telegraph company the right to extend its line from Buenos Aires to Santos and Rio de Janeiro. This decision will give the company an American-owned line of telegraphic communication with Brazil, although in a rather roundabout way. The present line of the company extends via Colon down the Pacific coast to Valparaiso, Chile, and thence over the Andes and across the pampas to Buenos Aires. The projected extension of the line by cable north from Buenos Aires to Brazil was bitterly fought by a British-owned concern which had obtained from Brazil, in 1870, the exclusive cable rights to the entire Brazilian coast from the north for a period of sixty years. These rights gave to the British company the monopoly of all cable dispatches to Brazil from the United States, which must cross the Atlantic before being relayed to the Brazilian ports.

The decision of the high court of Brazil giving to the American company the right to extend a cable from Buenos Aires to the Brazilian ports not only destroys the monopoly of the British company but is of much importance to this country, for the reason that when the line is completed messages may be sent to Brazil over an all-American-owned line. The struggle to accomplish this has been going on nearly half a century.

She Was All Steerage, Too
(From the St. Paul Pioneer Press.)
"Even our college presidents make bad errors," says an exchange. Too true. The president of Harvard referred to the Mayflower as "an immigrant ship" the other day.

American Naval Bases
(From the Charleston News and Courier.)

The collier Hector, a large and costly vessel of the finest type in her class, broke in two on a shoal off the South Carolina coast last July. Some weeks ago the armored cruiser Memphis, a fine and expensive vessel, though of a class which is no longer being built, was wrecked in the West Indies. A month ago the submarine H-3 was ashore on a reef off Humboldt Bay on the California coast. Now the cruiser Milwaukee, a $4,000,000 ship, is wrecked on the same shoal and will probably be a total loss.

It is an extraordinary record of costly naval mishaps. Adding to the list the transport Sumner which went ashore off the North Atlantic coast a few weeks back, one perceives that Woman's Claim to Equal Suffrage Is Absolutely Just.

The Government of the United States has been suffering some pretty expensive losses in the way of shipping in the past few months. What is the explanation? Is it just a "run of bad luck" or a sort which the highest efficiency and the finest seamanship are powerless to avert?

This Work Is No Play
By the time Thomas Mott Osborne and Professor McCormick of Bowdoin have performed detentioners' service at the Portsmouth naval prison a few days, no doubt they will be glad they were sent up for one week only—Manchester Union.

Working on an ice pond with the thermometer flirting with zero will no doubt cause "Tom Brown" to remember his stay at Seavey's Island for many days to come.

RAILROADS REACH AN AGREEMENT

Rumor Prevalent That Grand Trunk Will Secure Control of B. & M.

Boston, Jan. 20.—A tentative agreement has been reached between representatives of the Concord and Montreal railroad and the reorganization committee of the Boston & Maine whereby the plans of the reorganization committee may be carried out. Following the announcement came the rumor that the deal would result in the Grand Trunk railroad getting control of the Boston & Maine. The rumor was intensified by the fact that Earl Fitzhugh, a power in Grand Trunk affairs, is in this city. The Concord & Montreal railroad is the largest leased line.

FIVE-MINUTE TALKS BY NATIONAL LEADERS

Mr. Howard Elliott, president of the New Haven Railroad, was asked by a newspaper on the outlook for the land transportation lines of the country. He responded with the following:

By Howard Elliott,
President of the New Haven Railroad.
A good point in the railway outlook is that there is a better understanding on the part of the public of the difficulties under which the railways of the United States are struggling, and there is a growing realization of the fact that the railways need assistance if they are to prepare to do the work of the increasing population of the country.

The public also realize to a greater extent than ever before that any unreasonable regulation and any attacks on the railways are hurtful to the general welfare of the country as well as hurtful to the railways.

A bad point is the existence of prices for material that are very, very much more than a year ago, and the necessity of paying very much higher wages than a year ago, with no corresponding increase in the unit price of what the railways have to sell—freight and passenger service.

This condition is narrowing down the margin between income and outgo, and is making it more and more difficult for the railways to go on with the necessary work of adding to their facilities. This is unfortunate, because the time of making improvements to the facilities is vital to the welfare of the whole country.

I believe the railways of the country as a whole are not likely to show large increases in gross earnings this year. The net earnings, I think, will show decreases.

The railways can only add to their facilities by getting and spending money. Some improvements should be made out of earnings, and, to permit this, rates should be advanced. Other improvements should be made by obtaining new capital, which can only be obtained if investors will buy new railway securities freely. This they are indisposed to do under present economic conditions.

The railways are in need of rolling stock and many other facilities, and some increase will necessarily be made in 1917, but the increase will be limited somewhat by the high prices of material and the very high wages.

I believe the Congressional investigation of the railway situation will be of much benefit both to the carriers and to the public, because it will bring clearly before the public the fact that the prosperity of the railways and the general progress of the country are so interwoven that the result will be the public will insist that sufficient assistance be given to the railways to keep them in condition to take care of the constantly increasing business of the country.

The country is headed for government ownership unless some encouraging legislation is granted and a system of flexible regulation is created so that income can be more rapidly adjusted to the outgo when general economic changes occur. I believe that government ownership would affect the railways and shippers both adversely.

SEARCHERS FIND ARMY AVIATORS NEAR TO DEATH

Come Across Lt.-Col. Bishop and Lt. Robinson in Mexican Desert, 32 Miles From Border.

Wellton, Arizona, Jan. 20.—Lieut. Col. Harry G. Bishop and Lieut. W. A. Robertson, missing army aviators exhausted from walking four days in the wilds of Sonora, Mexico, without food or water were found yesterday 32 miles south of the border by a civilian searching party from Wellton.

Lieut. Robertson was brought back here today by the searchers. Lieut. Col. Bishop, too weak to walk, was left in charge of the searchers in the Rosario mountains, where he was found last night at 10 o'clock.

Two sandwiches, and two oranges each was all the food the men had tasted since they left the Fort Island aviation base at San Diego Jan. 10 on their flight. Robertson told the searchers.

The only water they had had was taken from the radiator of the airplane, Robertson said and it was exhausted four days ago.

Robertson was found yesterday following the tracks of the automobile of the searching party. He was trailing the base of the Gila Mountains, 200 miles south of the border. He directed the searching party to the Rosario mountains, 30 miles farther south where he said he left Bishop the day before. Bishop had become so exhausted that he was unable to walk.

Leaving Robertson in charge of two of the searchers, other members of the party pressed southward and found Bishop lying on the ground in a mountain pass. He was unable to talk and barely able to recognize the searchers.

Robertson said the members of the searching party were the first human beings he had seen since he landed. He was unable to give definite information as to the district wherein they landed but thought it was 250 miles or more south of the Arizona border.

San Diego Jan. 19.—Since the morning of Jan. 10, when the two aviators began a flight from here with a Cessna as their objective, they had not been heard from.

Searching parties consisting of fellow aviators, civilians in automobiles and Mexican troops had been scouring the deserts of Lower California and Sonora in an effort to find the aviators.

DES MOINES WILL TAKE OFF AMERICANS

Refugees Will Be Landed in Spain or Italy—Must Pay Their Way.

Washington, Jan. 20.—One thousand and a half Americans, mostly naturalized Syrians and Armenians, with their wives and children will be taken on board the American cruiser at Beirut for transportation to the U. S. Ambassador Abraham I. Elkus, ambassador to Turkey, telegraphed the state department yesterday that arrangements had been made for assembling that number at Beirut, Syria.

Ambassador Elkus thought it might be necessary for the Des Moines to make more than one trip to Beirut and that the transport Caesar which is on her way to a Syrian port with relief supplies contributed in the U. S. for destitute Syrians and Armenians, may also take away Americans. The cruiser and the transport will take the refugees to an Italian or Spanish port, whence they will sail on a regular merchant vessel for this country.

The Des Moines is at Alexandria, Egypt where the Caesar is due today. The Des Moines will await advice from Ambassador Elkus before proceeding to Beirut. The state department called Ambassador Elkus today to ascertain how many of the 1000 refugees are able to pay their passage home after arriving at an Italian or Spanish port, where they will be put ashore by the Des Moines and the Caesar, and also how many have been provided for in this respect by friends. Only those who will be able to reach the U. S. on their own or friends' resources will be permitted to leave Beirut on the American vessels.

It was believed until the receipt of Ambassador Elkus's dispatch today that only 200 or 300 Americans desired to be taken out of Turkey and there was some consternation that 1000 intelligence was received that 1000 wished to leave. All are Americans, as Ambassador Elkus had previously informed the department that only Americans would be permitted to leave the country.

It was learned that 500 of the Americans are in Jerusalem and Jaffa alone, the others coming principally from northern Syria.

WALDEN'S

CENSORSHIP ENFORCED ON ALL OSBORNE'S MAIL

Letters and Telegrams Sent or Received are First Approved by Officer in Charge of Prison

It was learned yesterday afternoon that another of the prison regulations in force on the U. S. S. Southern, and at the Naval Prison, relative to mail and telegraph matters had been strictly enforced in the case of Thomas Mott Osborne, "serving" as a prisoner in connection with his investigation into prison affairs in the navy. All of Mr. Osborne's mail went through the regular form before he read it and his outgoing mail was also censored by the commanding officer of the Southern, Chief Boatswain W. L. Hill, U. S. N. Prisoners are given their mail once a day. It is handed to the prisoner together with a cutter, and the prisoner sits open the envelope, returns cutter and envelop to the officer, who removes the letter in the presence of the prisoner. The letter is read by the officer and if it contains nothing of an objectionable character, is given to the prisoner. All of Mr. Osborne's mail, as well as Professor McCormick's and Harry Bollinsky's was taken in this manner since they were taken aboard the detention ship as deserters.

On Sunday afternoon the three men will again become United States citizens when they are discharged from their imprisonment. This will be carried out in the regular manner. In the afternoon they will be returned from the prison to the Southern, their clothing will be returned, and they will be handed "dishonorable discharges" from the navy by Captain Hill. After this, they will be sent from the yard, Professor McCormick leaves on the evening train for Brunswick to return to his duties at Bowdoin College on Monday morning. Mr. Osborne and Mr. Bollinsky are to remain here as the guests of Captain Hill and will conduct a further investigation from the viewpoint of a non-prisoner for another week.

Just why the plan to have Bollinsky remain on the detention ship had been suddenly changed was learned last evening. Mr. Bollinsky had not apparently grasped the idea that he must submit to the regulations of the ship although he had twice been on report. During the drill period on Thursday after the removal of Mr. Osborne and Professor McCormick to the prison, Bollinsky became tired of his duties, took a newspaper, went forward and settled himself comfortably in the lee of the bullworks. A sentry collared him, ordered him to return to his station, which the detentioner refused, and he was then taken before the commander. Captain Hill offered to allow him to comply with the regulations or be punished. He still refused. Captain Hill then had his rate changed to a prisoner, clothed him in the prison uniform, and sent him under guard to the naval prison.

Today will be the last of their labors as Sunday is a day of rest for the inmates of the prison. They will attend service in the morning and after dinner at noon will be released. Efforts on the part of some newspapers for signed articles by Mr. Osborne have been refused in every instance, the former warden insisting that he did not care for any such notoriety. He despatched a number of telegrams to newspaper editors, couched in non too gentle language, that he had no statements to make, no articles to sell, and desired nothing but the right to fulfill his purpose of completing his investigation.

GETTING MORE THAN THE LAW ALLOWS THEM

A half dozen internal revenue officers have been busy in Portland and other Maine cities. On Thursday they visited Biddeford and Saco. As a result of their investigation a number of people who have been having intoxicating liquors come in large quantities were politely invited to make call on Dr. Harry A. Weymouth, deputy internal revenue collector at Saco, and settle for different amounts.

One Biddeford man who, it is claimed, had three gallons of whisky come at one time, which was divided between himself, his mother and a friend, and was not used for illegal purposes, so it is stated, was notified to settle for the amount of $30 or more.

The officers made a great many calls and investigated cases where it was claimed an excessive amount of liquor was received by parties.

WILL HOLD REVIVAL

Evangelist Thomas J. Gambill to Conduct Series of Meetings at Kittery.

An important event in the religious life of Kittery and vicinity will take place in the coming of Evangelist Thomas J. Gambill and wife, next Tuesday, January 23. They come from a most successful series of meetings in City Island, N. Y. They come with a record of almost continual success in their evangelistic endeavors.

THOMAS J. GAMBILL

The meetings will be held in the Government Street Methodist church of Kittery, beginning Jan. 21 and continuing through Feb. 18th.

Mr. Gambill comes as a man and with the highest testimonials of success elsewhere. A Concord minister writes: "You have made no mistake in securing Mr. Gambill. He is a man and a man with a message that has depth to it. I commend him heartily to your confidence." One of the Amherst, Mass., ministers writes: "His heart is in his work. He loves it. His methods are free from all objectionable features and well suited to evangelistic work."

We also learn that Mrs. Gambill is a director of music and as a helper to young people is a valuable aid to her husband.

The meetings have been well planned and preparatory cottage meetings have been held in the homes. They have proved quite successful. The churches and citizens of Kittery and vicinity have been cordially invited to help by their presence. Some of the churches are planning on sending delegations.

The meetings will be held every evening beginning next Wednesday evening at 7.30, except Saturday. On Sunday at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m.

AN APPEAL FOR IMPROVEMENT

An article recently in print announcing the sale of the ancient Stoddley Tavern, on Daniel street, and the erection of a modern business block on the lot now occupied by this historic building—Of the thousands who travel this busy street, not many have failed in comment on the mistake made after the fire of 1761, in locating the building so far out of line with the street, an inconvenience and offensive encroachment to travel.

Let us hope that he error of a century and a half ago will not be repeated. Apathy in this matter will reflect on those whose business it is to inspect conditions of rebuilding. An instance where supervision did not make good is seen in the erection of the business block on Market street south of Deer street where the street at slight expense could have been widened. Such an improvement was needed there and other opportunities have been neglected in the past.

Daniel street is one of, and will continue to be, our busiest thoroughfares. Let attention be given to this matter. Do not wait until the architect has all plans laid, and entail difficulties that can be avoided by preliminary action. Improvement invokes action. Let the new building attest to the efficiency of our city officials, and the public will appreciate the awakening to improvements, in line with booming Portsmouth.

OSBORNE HITS THE COAL PILE

Worked Good on Friday But Was Tired at Night; He Crawled Into Bed Early.

Thomas Osborne, alias Tom Brown, completes his term in the naval prison today and will be discharged this evening from the U. S. S. Southern.

Today owing to the weather, the prison crews did not work outside further than to put in a supply of coal. Osborne was supplied with a No. 7 scoop and worked unloading the fuel from the dump cars.

It is evident that the ex-Sing Sing warden got his share of hard work on Friday in the lee gang on the yard ponds, although he worked good from 7.30 a. m. until 4 p. m. When night came and he partook of the evening prison meal he was not long in getting into his cell back.

Concord, Jan. 19.—In the absence of Speaker Merrill, William J. Ahern of Concord, who had been designated by the speaker, called the house to order at 9:30.

The following resolution was presented by Capt. Frank H. Chellis of Manchester and unanimously adopted and the house adjourned to meet Monday evening.

"Whereas there has gone to his long home an admiral of the United States navy, a disciple and pupil of the immortal Farragut, who in his own person and achievements illustrated the highest traditions of his profession, therefore be it

RAN AWAY WITH A MARY PICKFORD.

Hoston, Jan. 19.—Under the recent interpretation of the Mann white slave act by the U. S. supreme court, Antonio Valenti, 21 years old, of Noyes place North End, was yesterday before Commissioner Hynes and held in $500 for a hearing on Jan. 29, on the charge of having transported Emma Pickford, 15 years old, "the Mary Pickford of the North End" to Hooksett, N. H., for immoral purposes.

Valenti was discharged in the local court recently on the ground that the girl accompanied him voluntarily. The government officials say Valenti took the young woman to New Hampshire under promise of marriage, but actually for an immoral purpose, and that it properly comes under the provisions of the Mann act, as now interpreted.

SUNDAY CALLS DANCE HUGGING SET TO MUSIC

Boston, Jan. 20.—The following are a few of the telling shots let loose here by the Rev. Billy Sunday:

"It is foolish to gallop a mile or two to get a hug or two."

"The dance is a hugging match set to music."

"A Tanguay can get $2,500 a week and you hear little comment, but if a preacher happens to make a little money he is a damn grafter."

"The free-for-all has something on the private club dance in that the girls there wear more clothes."

"Decollete, that means collar around the waist."

"Take the leg shows off the stage and the theatres would go into bankruptcy."

"There'll be no hypocrites in heaven, so if you don't want to associate in the future with the people you detest, come into the church now."

U. S. WARSHIPS ORDERED TO RELIEF

1000 AMERICANS IN SYRIA BEG
UNITED STATES CONSUL TO REMOVE THEM TO PLACES OF SAFETY.

Washington, Jan. 19.—More than 1000 Americans have petitioned Ambassador Bliss at Constantinople to get them out of Syria and Palestine.

The ambassador cabled the state department today that the original estimate of 300 has more than trebled since the Turkish military authorities needed to strong representations by the state department that American citizens be allowed to leave.

Plan Relief.

From Jaffa and Jerusalem alone an increase of more than 500 American refugees has been noted, while the remainder come from scattered localities.

The navy department is making arrangements to transfer the Americans to Barcelona. The cruiser Des Moines and the collier Caesar will be used.

510,000 Starve to Death in Syria

Rome, Jan. 19.—Five hundred and ten thousand persons have died of starvation in Syria, says the Corriere d'Italia.

Lebanon is said to have suffered particularly, while at Beirut inhabitants are said to have been picked up on the streets nearly dying of hunger.

The number of suicides is increasing to appalling proportions.

Similar horrors are reported as occurring in Palestine and parts of the interior inhabited by Christians.

LEGISLATION TO STOP PINE DISEASE.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Legislation to forbid importation of nursery stocks, except by the federal department of agriculture, for experimental purposes was proposed to the American Forestry association at its conference on the pine blaster disease today as the only means of preventing spread of the multitude of insect pests and plant afflictions now threatening forests and farm crops.

Nurserymen opposed the suggested legislation on the ground that high prices of many fruit trees and shrubs now imported would result from their propagation in this country.

HOSPITAL RUN AT LOSS WITHOUT AID FROM THE STATEYork Institution Wants $1200 to Carry on the Work.

During a hearing at Augusta, J. W. Simpson of York appeared in behalf of the appropriations for the York hospital. He asked for the sum of $1,200 from the state for the years of 1917-1918, the same amount as received during the past two years. This institution, Mr. Simpson said, accommodates a summer population of about 15,000 people at York Harbor in addition to the resident population in that section of the state. Last year it cared for 127 patients, of whom 41 paid and 86 were treated free.

The general running expense in 1916 was $7,033.51 and the income was $6,780.31—a net loss, without the state appropriation, of $253.20. The hospital does not conduct a training school.

ELIOT MAN HOLDS RECORD FOR HUNTINGNetted Over $200 in Five Weeks for Skins of Animals Shot and Trapped.

The record of hunting and trapping in a period of five weeks in the state of Maine is held by W. H. Sparrow of Eliot. In this space of time he has succeeded in capturing 42 foxes, 38 skunks, 3 mink, five muskrats and a deer.

During this season of hunting Mr. Sparrow has not been outside the three mile limit, in fact, some of the catch was made near the back yard of his home on the Beach road. He claims a good part of the haul is credited to his wife, Mrs. Mabel E. Sparrow, who is a crack shot with a rifle, and knows a thing or two about traps.

"Sport," the hound dog on the steps,

Brown, shakes the grey prison rig today.

That he neighbors of a young man practicing on a corner have no objections to him joining the army.

That Charles Cogswell Smith has begun his duties as city auditor.

That many a son's cast-off clothing these days look good to the father.

That the new half dollar turned out lately by the government will not go as far as a quarter formerly did for the purchase of things in the market.

That a farmer's wife in Ohio wrecked her automobile rather than lose a basket of eggs.

That she certainly had an idea of real economy.

That he back sign for 1917 will soon be up for observation and this brew on the market for sampling.

POLICE COURT.

A delegation of women from Arbitration Row on Mechanic street appeared before Judge Gupilli in the local hall of justice today. Their appearance was occasioned by one of the neighbors being brought into court charged with insult. The affair grew out of a front door-step assembly during which there was a choice delivery of the English language in the raid made by his master, and is the best fox bound in the Pine Tree state. He sits and watches the skins on the rear of the house for hours with pride and appeared delighted when the camera man was making ready to take a shot at him and the collection of wild animals he had tagged in the forest.

Collection of Foxes, Skunks, Mink, Rats and Deer Captured by W. H. Sparrow, of Eliot, Maine.

Mr. Sparrow had no trouble in disposing of the skins and the high price of them in the market at the present netted him over $200.

The picture shows part of the collection pulled up on the barn in the rear of the house.

guage not found in the latest issue of Webster's or Worcester's International dictionaries. In the open air debate of family history, one of the neighbors told another a few things that would not look good in print and for the naughty, naughty words, a warrant landed her before the tribunal. Several witnesses came up from the scene of battle for the plaintiff and defendant and opened fire again, one way and another in the court room. Then all had their little say and for a half hour or more it was anything but a peaceful gathering. Finally Judge Gupilli ordered the soft pedal and told them all what he thought of the whole affair. He lectured to them all and was satisfied that more than one of them was guilty of participating in the wholesale wrangle. He discharged the defendant and she went out smiling.

OLYMPIA THEATRE NOTES

If your wife talks too much, come to the Olympia and enjoy the Silent Drama, or bring her and enjoy her silence.

Time was, and not so long since, when motion pictures were accorded little if any notice.

A glance at the dramatic page of the New York dailies now finds quite as much space devoted to criticisms of motion pictures as of the output of the speaking stage.

The Boston Post carried an article today to the effect that twenty-five of the leading picture producers have banded together and will attempt to eliminate, as far as possible, all "indecent" scenes in motion pictures, and furthermore will assist in the prosecution of those theatre managers who show pictures with scenes that would tend to corrupt the morals of patrons.

Frank Keenan and Enid Markey are featured in "Jim Grimsby's Boy," for the last time today. It is a very unusual picture and contains some beautiful scenery.

The 13th episode of "The Shielding Shadow," two good comedies and a three-reel drama round out an excellent bill.

Attend the first show tonight if possible and don't forget that it starts at 6.30.

Monday and Tuesday Fannie Ward in "The Gutter Magdalene," a Paramount picture, will be one of the features on the bill.

Constance Talmadge and Wilfred Lucas will appear in a corking Triangle Fine Arts picture, "The Microscope Mystery."

Coming, Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne in "The Great Secret," and "Patric" with Mrs. Vernon Castle.

PASSING OF OLD HAND CARRailroad Men Now Use Gasoline Motor to Get Over Their Districts.

A railroad section hand's job which always has conjured up thoughts of back-breaking, work driving hand-cars, promises to become one long joy ride. For the old-fashioned hand car has given way to a new gasoline motor-propelled car capable of carrying ten men and developing a speed of 25 miles an hour even on steep grades.

Most of the New England roads, the B. & M., B. & A., N. Y. N. H. & H. and Maine Central have equipped themselves with the new cars following the example of the Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania roads. The New England roads find the cars a big economic factor, not alone in saving the time of their section men, but also in caring for railroad property and as a means of emergency transportation in event of wrecks.

The time of a section man starts from the moment he leaves the headquarters' shanty, no matter what part of the road he may be working on and ends with his return to the shanty. With the old hand car it took men a long time to reach their divisions. The new car takes them there very quickly, eliminating much lost time. By making the work of the men easier, the car also tends to obviate the difficulty of securing men, who will remain on the job, especially in summer.
